THE SPLIT IS NOT YET

The past few weeks have seen two men thrust into positions which will put one or the other at the helm of this nation to which the Free World looks for strength. There is nothing in the record of either of them to qualify him for that post.

Each of them has ridden to his present eminence on the wave of a movement foreign to the way of life which has made America great. Both are men of totalitarian principles. Neither of them has ever served in any executive capacity yet the office of President of the United States is the greatest executive post in the world.

And the platform of each party is merely a plea for votes.

Other factors than a choice between Kennedy and Nixon, or the Democratic and Republican platforms, must determine how to vote in November.

First is the strength shown at the Democratic Convention in Los Angeles by the political arm of Roman Catholicism which is separate and apart from its religious side. From the time of the Roman Emperor Constantine, Catholicism has operated as a religion on the one hand and a political force on the other.

The religious side of Catholicism is something which warrants NO CRITICISM because religion is a personal choice.

The political side of Catholicism should be discussed as frankly and openly as the frank and open stand of the Southern Baptist Convention in opposition to a Catholic for president.

There are fringe elements of the Catholic faith who do not go along with the Catholic political arm, and there are fringe elements of Protestant faiths who often or always go along with the political side of Catholicism.

In most European countries, Catholicism frankly and openly has its own political parties. In those countries it is generally called Christian Democrat because so many of its adherents are Protestants.

In America, the political arm of Catholicism has been concentrated within the Democratic party though the subject has been hush-hush BUT SHOULD BE NO LONGER.

The political side of Catholicism, which does not attract all members of the Catholic religion and yet derives a large part of its strength from non-Catholics, stood out in bold relief at the Democratic convention when Catholic Senator McCarthy fought to the end against Kennedy who, in turn, was supported by no less than the Jewish governor of Connecticut, the Protestant governor of Alabama and the Protestant governor-elect of North Carolina.

Yet it is an inescapable fact that the political arm of Catholicism swept the convention. Look at the names in the forefront of Kennedy support: Tammany Boss Carmine DeSapio, New York Mayor Wagner, Governor Lawrence of Pennsylvania, Governor DeSalle of Ohio, Mayor Daley of Chicago, Catholics all, and each of them at the head of Democratic machines predominantly Catholic, or, in the case of Tammany and Kennedy's home city of Boston, totally Catholic. Time magazine said that, for the first time, Catholicism proved a help rather than a hindrance to a candidate for President.

Which revealed a surge for control of the Democratic party by the political arm of Catholicism (as distinct from its religious arm). Opposition to Catholic control of the Democratic party centers in the South. Between the two are rival concepts of government.

But the split has not yet come, and may not come. It becomes more than ever apparent that things must get worse before they get better. Both the Democratic and Republican parties move in the direction of totalitarian thought and action. Many prominent Democrats including Truman and both Alabama Senators stayed away from the Democratic Convention when they saw the direction it was headed. But remember England endured four Stuart kings and Cromwell before the great and revered mother country kicked out the Catholic King James II with all that the Stuarts and Protestant Dictator Cromwell stood for.

Meanwhile the South is still a power within the Democratic party as evidenced by the fact that Kennedy quickly turned to the South, rather than the West or Midwest, for a running mate. Until and unless a definite and clear-cut split occurs, it is to the South's advantage to remain within the framework of the Democratic party.

Therefore, we favor support of the complete Democratic ticket in November including John Fitzgerald Kennedy for President and Lyndon Baines Johnson for Vice-President. It is not important whether Kennedy or Nixon is elected president but it is important for the South to concentrate its strength where it can exert the greatest influence for its own good and that of the nation to which it gives that stabilizing influence mentioned by Chet Huntley, NBC news analyst, when he said at the Democratic Convention that the South had once again shown itself the most stable part of this great country of ours.

FARMER GETS CUT

AUBURN — Very little of the government's spending in agriculture winds up in the farmer's pocket. More than half of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's 1961 budget of over six billion dollars is taken up by foreign relations and defense aspects, food distribution, research and education, meat, and food inspection, forestry services, soil conservation, market reporting, and regulatory programs.

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Mossburn, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. ... I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right; takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torison-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

◀ "I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

The Thrifty HOUSEWIFE KNOWS SHE PROFITS FROM ADVERTISING!

She Has Found From Experience that she fares Better When She Buys
From Those Stores Which Advertise Regularly in Newspapers!

The Wise MERCHANT KNOWS HE PROFITS FROM ADVERTISING!

No business has to advertise. An experienced ad man is the first to disagree with the oft-repeated statement that 'You have to advertise.' Because you don't. But the most successful merchants are those who advertise. Because they want to let their customers know about their latest values and they have no fear to let their competitors know the same as their customers.

There are definite rules how to use it and the first rule is to budget the advertising the same as to budget the rent, payroll, gas, lights and water. Regular advertising is the key-note. No longer is advertising for clearance sales only. Customers want to know about regular price line merchandise too.

And there must be some reason why there is more advertising done in newspapers than in any other media. In fact, there is as much advertising done in newspapers as in the next highest three media combined.

All advertising is good, some better than others!

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By T. C. Self and Billy Taylor

T. E. Kilease of the Pine Level Community has completed shaping and planting of waterways. This system of terrace and waterways were completed during the early spring. Mr. Kilease delayed planting for some time thinking that the heavy rains would soon be over.

The waterways have been re-shaped and planted to millet and Bahia grass. The millet gives immediate protection, whereas the Bahia establishes more slowly. Once established, the Bahia gives adequate protection in these waterways.

Winford Clark of Kinston, retraced some of his better land in the spring. The rolling land was planted to Bahia grass for pasture purposes. While walking over this pasture area recently, Winford stated, "I am glad I planted Bahia on this part of the field. It would have washed away with all the heavy rains we have had this year. Winford plans to improve his farm by clearing areas of low grade hardwood and planting to Bahia grass.

IRRIGATION USED

One hundred 69 Alabama farmers are irrigating truck crops this year. And research at Auburn University over a period of several years shows that irrigation pays most of the time, says Extension Horticulturist John Bagby.

YOUR EXCEL PHARMACY

One of our old teachers used to say, "I can lead you to knowledge, but only God can give you wisdom."

And how right he was. A string of diplomas and degrees does not make a man wise. Many of the wisest never had a formal education.

For knowledge is the accumulation of facts. But wisdom is the ability to apply a few facts — perhaps only one — to a life-situation.

We know a distinguished scholar who has written volumes on ecclesiastical architecture. And we know an elderly widow who told her grandchildren, "Churches ain't made to look at!"

And the scholar — earnest Christian that he is — humbly bows to the wisdom of the widow!

For whether it be a cathedral or chapel, the church cannot enrich our lives until we have entered its portals to worship and serve God. The ear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom.

time in Old Mexico. They will return home August 2.

HIT BY HEAT

If livestock could talk, they would probably discuss the weather just as humans do. Hot weather can cost the livestock producer money if he isn't careful, states Estelina Livestock Marketing Economist Otis Russell. He explains that shipping losses from both mortality and shrinkage are higher during the summer than at any other time.

TRICHINOSIS RARE

Thousands will die this year from diseased pork! That is a scare headline that is very untrue, according to Extension Meat Specialist Ray Cavender. Facts prove that only 13 people in our country died of trichinosis in a recent three-year period.
